SPEECHES—To Night!
B. W. HANNA Esq. of Crawfordsville, whose speech a few weeks ago gave such general satisfaction; and the popular young Irish Orator of Indianapolis, will speak at Colerick's Hall, this evening.

R. J. RYAN,
Both gentlemen are eloquent speakers, and those who have the fortune to go in time to secure seats will enjoy a rich treat, and hear some good democratic truths ably and fearlessly expounded.

The Committees of Arrangement.
For the Mass Convention to be held on Tuesday next, are notified to meet at the Club Room on Monday night next, at 7 o'clock precisely. A full meeting of all the committees is requested.

Our Mass Meeting Next Tuesday.
Promises to be the largest ever held in Northern Indiana. We have seen democrats from different parts of the county, and they assure us that their respective townships are making active preparations to rally en masse and attend the convention in procession, with banners, music, Hickory poles, wagons, &c. &c. From the neighboring counties we have equally encouraging reports, and have reason to expect large delegations from several towns in Ohio on the line of the railroads.

It is designed to marshal the mighty host in grand procession, each delegation being kept distinct, at 10 o'clock. They will therefore be expected to be in town by that time, when they will be met by a Marshal and placed on the ground they are destined to occupy.

The committee of arrangements have prepared the following as the order of procession:
The procession will be formed in five divisions. The First Division, composed of the Dragon Company, Artillery, and Wayne Township delegation will form on Calhoun Street, with the front resting on Main Street.

The Second Division, composed of the delegations from Seip, Springfield, Milan, Maumee, Jefferson, Jackson, Madison, and Monroe, with the delegation from Ohio, under the command of their respective Marshals, will form on Clinton Street, with their front resting on Main Street.

The Third Division, composed of the delegations from Wells and Adams Counties and the several delegations from Adams, Marion, Pleasant and Lafayette Townships, under the command of their respective Marshals, will form on Harrison Street, with their front resting on Main Street.

The Fourth Division, composed of the delegations from Huntington, Whitley, and Kosciusko counties, as well as the delegations from Abbot, Lake, and Washington Townships, under the command of their respective Marshals, will form on Ewing Street, with their front resting on Main Street.

Movement to commence precisely at 10 o'clock. M. First Division will advance to the left on Main Street; Second, Third, Fourth, and Fifth Divisions will fall in the procession in the order as numbered above.

The procession will pass up Main Street to Broadway, thence up Broadway to Wayne Street, Wayne Street to Clay, on Clay to Main, on Main to Barr, on Barr to Columbia, on Columbia to Calhoun, on Calhoun to Main, on Main to the Fair Ground, which will be thrown open to all, and advance to Speaker's stand.

The Marshals are requested to meet at the Public Square at eight o'clock A. M. on Tuesday next.

The Committee of Arrangements are requested to meet at Casselle's Hall at the same hour.

ALLEN COUNTY FAIR.

The Allen County Fair this week was a highly creditable affair, and far superior in point of exhibition to any of the preceding ones. The attendance of visitors, however, was comparatively small, and of these, we regret to say, the larger portion were townspeople—there being but few farmers present. This was the most discouraging feature of the exhibition, and shows a strange apathy on the part of that class most interested, and whose advantage the exhibition was more particularly intended to promote. We trust hereafter the farmers of Allen County will take a deeper interest in our fairs and proceedings of the Agricultural Society.

We had only time to pay a very brief visit to the Fair Ground, and are not prepared, neither have we room in our columns to give any extended notice of the various objects of interest on exhibition. The show of cattle was very fine, and shows a marked improvement in our stock, for which we are in a great measure indebted to the former labors of the Agricultural Society. There were also some very fine horses, fine woolled sheep, fat hogs, and a large quantity of splendid fruits and vegetables. The latter, especially, far exceeded any thing we ever saw in the county.

We will publish the award of premiums as soon as we can procure the copy.

Worthy of Reflection.—Our opponents in this campaign confine themselves almost exclusively to niggerology and bleeding Kansas, and would effect to be affronted if they were called Know-Nothing. The temperance question, too, which occupied so conspicuous a position in former years is totally ignored, and we see our opponents at their conventions, and their candidates at all times, boldly mounting the whisky platform, and bellowing for Fremont, free speech, free Kansas, and free whisky. A wonderful change seems to have come over the spirit of their dreams, and any man who had much confidence in the honesty of the new party would find it difficult to persuade himself that it was composed of the same persons as those who took such opposite grounds a year or two ago. But look at the man. Can you find one of the present shriekers for freedom who was not then a member of the dark lantern order, or a zealous advocate of a prohibitory law, search seizure, confiscation, and all. What has caused this sudden change, and made Kansas like Aaron's rod, swallow up all others? It is simply that they have found the temperance and know nothing hobbies no longer popular. Popularity and power are what they seek, and to obtain them they can stoop to any trick however low. Principles with them are as nothing, for in fact they have no principles; and the whole party would turn round and advocate slavery in Kansas, as Mr. Brenton did when he voted for Dunn's bill, if they were assured the popular feeling or prejudice ran that way.

Look round and see what the so-called republican party is composed of. Do you find a prominent man among them who is not an advocate of the Prohibitory Law or an advocate of the Look on the state ticket and you will find the name of John W. Dawson, a notorious member of that proscription order, and whose weekly business was to traduce and vilify our naturalized citizens, as candidate for Secretary of State. Know Nothingism, Prohibitory Lawism, and abolitionism are the component parts of republicanism, and these who do not like the ingredients should be careful how they swallow the compound.

Two years ago the members of the present republican party advocated know nothingism, Maine Lawism, and abolitionism. If they were sincere then, do they not still hold the same opinions and is not their new-fangled zeal for bleeding Kansas a mere blind to enable them to steal into power and carry out their odious proscription and inquisitorial designs? If they were not sincere, what security have we that they are more honest in their present professions? In either alternative they are not to be trusted.

This subject is worthy of the reflection of those who are opposed to the former acts of the republican party, but whose philanthropic feelings have carried them away on this Kansas question. Before they cast their ballots let them be sure that in voting for freedom in Kansas they do not endanger their own liberty and rights.

Keep It Before the People.

That the terms of the Senate bill for the pacification of Kansas were pronounced by John P. Hale to be unexceptionable; and yet Mr. Brenton and the Black-Republicans opposed it.

That this bill abolishes those local laws which General Cass denounces as unworthy of the age; yet Mr. Brenton and the Black-Republicans opposed it.

That it abolishes those oaths which the Kansas legislature imposed as to the fugitive slave law; yet Mr. Brenton and the Black-Republicans opposed it.

That it also prohibits the Kansas Legislature from enacting similar laws in future; and yet Mr. Brenton and the Black-Republicans opposed it.

That it provides that all actual settlers driven out of Kansas may return and vote; and yet Mr. Brenton and the Black-Republicans opposed it.

That it provides for the protection of the settlers of the whole army of the United States to uphold this law; and yet Mr. Brenton and the Black-Republicans opposed it.

Keep It Before the People.

That Dunn's Bill legislated slavery into Kansas, and yet Mr. Brenton and the Black-Republicans voted for it.

That it extended the Fugitive Slave Law over Kansas, and yet Mr. Brenton and the Black-Republicans voted for it.

That it condemned to perpetual slavery all children born of slave parents in Kansas, and yet Mr. Brenton and the Black-Republicans voted for it.

That a factious party in congress sought to prevent the government from suppressing the outrages in Kansas, by refusing to pass the appropriation for the support of the army, and Mr. Brenton voted with them.

Keep it before the People.

That this same Mr. Brenton is asking the friends of Free Kansas to vote for him for Congress, that he may again have the power to deceive them, and disgrace the Tenth Congressional District by factions opposition to measures essential to the peace, safety, and well-being of the people.

Finally, Keep it before the People, That no advocate of law and order nor so consistent friend of free Kansas can vote for the man who has so shamelessly given the lie to the professions of his party.

Rev. Dr. BUARS of Buffalo will preach at the 1st Presbyterian Church to-morrow morning and evening.

A Nut for the Opponents of the Fugitive Slave Law.—The abolitionists, and indeed the present republican party generally, have a great deal to say against the Fugitive Slave Law and the horrors of slavery. To prove their sincerity in this matter, their members of Congress all voted for Dunn's Bill extending the provisions of that much condemned law over Nebraska and Kansas, and establishing and legalizing slavery in those Territories. As a further proof they had previously nominated Fremont as their candidate for the Presidency, who is said to be a slaveholder, was actually an advocate of the Fugitive Slave Law, and had been aiding in the re-capture of runaway negroes. The Cincinnati Times gives the following interesting reminiscence of Fremont's doings as a negro-catcher:

"When, in 1851, Captain Alexander Hays, of Buchanan County, Missouri, recaptured in California a runaway slave, Colonel Fremont was his attendant into Sacramento City. He came with Capt. Hays in the same conveyance, as his companion, and, while at the bar of the Crescent City Hotel, drank a toast in endorsement of the measure by which Captain Hays was enabled to recapture his slaves that had absconded from a slave State. We have his own words, and they were to the Congress that admitted California in the Union, AND GAVE US THE FUGITIVE-SLAVE LAW."

"Here, then, is an endorsement stronger and more unequivocal than we have ever heard from the lips of any other man. It was made in public in the presence of persons who will testify as to the truth of the statement."

Friends of the poor oppressed black man and opponents of the Fugitive Slave Law, how do you like your candidate? Can you sustain a party which shows such admirable consistency, and is so evidently sincere in its sympathy for the unfortunate, down-trodden son of Africa,

Look Out for Spurious Tickets.

Voters examine your tickets carefully before voting, and do not accept them from any one unless you know him to be a genuine democrat. An attempt will be made to impose spurious tickets, with some fusion names substituted for regular democratic candidates; and there are so many names on the ticket this year, the change of one or two might not be observed unless great care is used. Be on your guard. Our adversaries are notorious for deception and imposition, and will try to cheat you out of your votes. Be satisfied you have a genuine ticket, containing the names of ALL the democratic candidates, before you place it in the ballot box.

A Blast from Henry Ward Beecher on Dunn's Kansas Bill.

The redoubtable Henry Ward Beecher is utterly disgusted with the position his Black-Republican friends took at the last session of Congress in sustaining Dunn's Kansas Bill. The "fighting parson," in the columns of the Independent, thus thunders his indignation in speaking of that Black-Republican measure. Hear him.

"Now, if these provisions do not constitute a political speck for the soul of an anti-slavery man, I much mistake the basis of a life-long principle in him. Look at them for a moment. They acknowledge that slavery can be taken from the rice swamps and upon the Gehenna of cotton at the South. And furthermore, that they may be taken to other Territories of the United States thus implicitly admitting what every freedom and Constitution-loving man denies, i. e., that slavery can further exist in the Territories under the Constitution. It effectually ignores the old, true doctrine, that if slavery has any existence whatever, it has it by positive slave law; and where that kind of private code of might does exist, every man leapt into his free man's right being. Another feature of these provisions is found in its sanction of the Fugitive slave enactment of 1850—a code for the rendition of fugitive from slavery that is revolting to every Northern and Western nature."

This "political piece" to the hero of the Sharp Rifle notoriety, was swallowed without flinching by Mr. Brenton and all the Black-Republicans in Congress, save Leiter of Ohio! All of them guiped and swallowed down that dose as if it was the most palatable thing in the world. Notwithstanding they have thus placed themselves on a record which Parson Beecher, their champion, declares to be of the most ultra pro-slavery character, they claim to be great friends of "freedom" and of the panting fugitive whom, with a charming consistency, they had just voted to "chase down" in the Territories of Kansas and Nebraska.

Who Wants to make Kansas a Slave State.

Our readers are already aware that Mr. Brenton and all the Black-Republicans in the House except Mr. Leiter of Ohio, voted for a bill to legislate slavery into Kansas. The same party, notwithstanding their hypocritical cant about free Kansas, would also be willing to make Kansas a slave state, if by so doing they could secure southern votes for Fremont. The spoils of office are what they are after. Their affection for freedom is a mere sham, used to catch votes.

The New York Herald, a leading Fremont paper, of the 20th August says:—"We prefer that [Kansas] shall enter the Union as a Slave State, and that the balance of power may be maintained, believing at the same time that it will be of no disadvantage whatever to the Slave population, or the free States, no infraction of the law of God or man. In these sentiments the friends of Col. Fremont as we are connected with them, cheerfully concur."

The democrats of the north wish Kansas to be a free state—made so by the decision of its own people. The fusionists seek to usurp the power for Congress to establish slavery there. Let the people judge which party is in favor of free Kansas, and which seeks to make it a slave state. In spite of the efforts of the Black-Republicans Kansas is destined to come into the Union as a free state, and that it is so will be owing to the efforts of the democrats.

A splendid Spectacle.—We have seen and heard of many splendid spectacles, such as the sun rising on a prairie on the deep blue sea, sunset on the Alpine Mountains, a flower garden in full bloom, or an American forest when the leaves first show the effects of the approach of winter; but the richest and most variegated of all can now be seen at No. 75 Columbia Street, which is absolutely resplendent with the beautiful assortment of rich goods Mr. Abbott is exhibiting for the inspection of the public. Ladies have a natural taste for the beautiful, and we advise them by all means to gratify it by visiting the Boston Store. If they see anything that particularly pleases their fancy (as they will be) sure to do) the accommodating proprietor will sell it to them at the very lowest rate. The Boston Store has become one of the institutions of the place, and obtained a wide celebrity for the excellence of its goods and the lowliness of its prices.

Fashion Rules the World.—Mrs. NULLEY rules the fashions of much taste, and that the Fort Wayne ladies are becoming celebrated for the neatness and beauty of the Millinery with which they seek to embellish their charms. Mrs. S. has just returned from New York with a full supply of the newest fashions, including some perfect laces, bonnets, hats, &c. &c. a very homely simile, "take the rag off any thing over brought here." She has also a full assortment of millinery materials, which under the meticulous guidance of her daughter, Mrs. Grace, will soon be made up into bonnets, availing in beauty the productions of the Broadway or Paris modistes.

At this establishment will also be found a fine assortment of Laces, Embroideries, Artificial, Trimmings, Furs, Cloaks, Mantillas, Gloves, and fancy articles generally, carefully selected by Mrs. Nulley in person, which will be found of superior quality, latest style, and last but not least, remarkably cheap.

GREAT EXCITEMENT.—Observing a large crowd of excited and good-natured looking people in Columbia Street yesterday, we stepped over hoping to catch an item. On inquiry we ascertained the commotion was caused by the well-known RUDDOLF SCHWEGMAN who was just opening a wonderful assortment of new goods, and selling them off rapidly at extraordinarily low prices. This explained the mystery at once, and the only item we got for our readers was the fact that they can find, every description of new and fashionable goods at Schwegman's, and buy them unusually cheap.

From the Pacific.—We have received two or three numbers of a handsomely printed sterling democratic paper from the shores of the Pacific. It is called the Pioneer & Democrat, and is printed and published at Olympia, Washington Territory, by Mr. Edward Furste, formerly of this city. He learned his trade in this office, and is well known to many of our readers as an industrious and intelligent young man. We wish him abundant success.

Beware of Seraphic Tickets!—It is the duty of every democrat to vote the entire, regularly nominated ticket, and not to scratch off or change any name upon it. Efforts will be made to induce democrats to split tickets, and trade votes, with a view of defeating some of our candidates. Give no countenance to such schemes, but vote your full, genuine pure tickets, and nothing else. This is the best and most practical test of democracy.

MAGDALEN HEPBURN—A Story of the Scottish Refractory. By Mrs. Oliphant, author of Zaide, Anna Graham, &c. Published by Garrett & Co., 18 Ann Street, N.Y. 1 vol. 12mo. Price $1.00. For sale by C. L. Hill.

This is one of the five hundred books which are published every few months that is worth reading. It is a charming novel, full of pathos, of finely drawn characters, and in its plot so stirring and exciting as to keep the imagination interested from the initial to the concluding chapter. Zaide, which appeared a year ago, by the same writer, in Blackwood's Review, was so great a success that it was very generally attributed to Bulwer. Magdalen Hepburn is greatly superior to Zaide, and is decidedly the novel of the day.

LIVE AND LEARN—A Guide for all who wish to Speak and Write Correctly. Garrett & Co., Publishers, 18 Ann Street N. York. Price 50 cents. For sale by C. L. Hill.

This is a book of reference for the solution of difficulties connected with grammar, composition, punctuation, &c., with explanations of Latin and French phrases, affixes, occurrence in newspapers, reviews, &c.; also giving the corrections of one thousand common or popular errors. It is a book which ought to be in the hands of all who desire to speak and write correctly.

Where They are Drifting.

In a published correspondence between General F. E. Springer, a member of Congress from the Seventeenth District, New York, and one of his constituents, we find the following bold avowal in the letter of the Black-Republican honorable. After stating that he considers the grievances of the North and the remedy the election of Fremont, he says:

"Should this fail, no man would be any longer safe here from the assault of the arrogant slave oligarchy, who would then rule with an iron hand. For the free North would then let the choice of a peaceful dissolution of the Union—a civil war, which would end in the same, or an unconditional surrender of every principle held dear by freemen."

So it appears these gentlemen, if beaten at the ballot-box, do not intend to submit to the declared will of the majority. If successful they will force dissolution on others, and if unsuccessful, they are for civil war themselves, which will end in a dissolution of the Union. The current is setting that way with the whole Fremont party, which is becoming thoroughly abolitionized and in favor of dissolution. The freedom of the negro is of more value in the eyes of the Fremonters than the brotherhood of the States and the perpetuity of the Union.

Although many of our citizens have been wheedled into the Fremont ranks, we do not believe they are in favor of dissolution or disunion. If not, they ought at once to leave that duty and patriotism call upon them to abandon the dangerous leaders they are blindly following, and vote the democratic ticket. No friend to the permanence of our institution sought to vote for Mr. Brenton or any other candidate of that party for Congress.

Kansas—The Latest and Most Reliable Intelligence. Some Hanging to be Done—Flight of Lane.

We furnish our readers with what we consider the most reliable intelligence we possess from Kansas. The following is taken from the St. Joseph correspondence of the St. Louis Republican, and is as late as the 19th inst., having been published in the Republican of the 26th. It is from a regular correspondent, upon whose fidelity and means of information that paper relies.

Major Davis got in last night directly from the town of Lawrence, and reports that the law has ended. He says that General Reid quickly drew around himself about three thousand and two hundred pro-slavery men, and marched upon and surrounded Lawrence, where it was understood Lane was residing with a force of five hundred cavalry, and that they had made a show of artillery. Upon a signal, being made up on the town to surrender, a reply came that they were not in arms, and offered no resistance.

Reid then marched in and found, sure enough, not more than two hundred people in the place, and as soon as he got information that General Reid was actually coming upon him with a strong force, he started in great haste for Iowa, and his insurgent rabble followed him.

Some said that he had declared he was going to the North to pilot in five thousand men, who were waiting for him, while others contended that as soon as he got information that General Reid was actually coming upon him with a strong force, he started in great haste for Iowa, and his insurgent rabble followed him.

The few people who were found in Lawrence said they have not resisted the law, and begged to have their town spared. Although it was the headquarters of General Reid, and the insurgent headquarters, yet he forbore to do so when he found it defenseless. Not one person was hurt nor a particle of property injured. Companies of Reid's men then scoured the country to ascertain if any of the invaders were still to be found; but everywhere he learned that they had been seen, and that they were in great haste for Iowa—Lane far in advance and others following.

Major Davis says that the fortifications at Lawrence consist of small and inefficient embankments, over the highest part of which he leaped his horse with ease. He considers this emphatically the conclusion of the Kansas war. The pro-slavery party, as now organized, could not rely on any force that could be brought against them, and at the same time the Government troops are in the field to prevent all invasions or uprisings of an unlawful kind.

Governor Geary has determined to have continuous terms of Court to try forthwith all who are arrested, and to execute promptly those who are found guilty of rebellion. He now has more than a hundred prisoners to try for the attack on Hickory Point. How unfortunate that he did not get Lane, the arch agitator, instead of these poor fanatical dupes. I have no doubt that Lane will hasten to the arms of Greeley, Beecher & Co., and they will receive him in warm embraces, and stick louder than ever over the wrongs of Kansas.

Kansas.

A gentleman of our acquaintance, says the St. Louis Herald, who returned from Kansas yesterday, informs us that all is peace and quiet in the Territory; that all the statements about recent battles have been very much exaggerated—so much so that for every twenty reported killed and wounded here, not more than one or two are known anything about in the Territory. The Missourians have all returned to their homes of the large and the store of the latter under Lane are reported to have gone back to their homes through Nebraska and Iowa to the East. He also informs us that the pro-slavery, as well as the free State, men who were driven out by both parties, are returning to Leavenworth, Wessport, and other places, and that those who had fled to the places of business and stores have again opened and resumed their occupations. All seem willing to abide by the acts of Gov. Geary.

The Reliability of Kansas News.

On Saturday we published the following telegraphic dispatch, dated St. Louis, September 30, 1856.

"Private advices from Kansas state that on Tuesday last every free State man was driven from Leavenworth at the point of the bayonet, and their property destroyed or confiscated. Mr. Phillips, the correspondent of the New York Tribune and his brother were killed. The house of the latter and the store of the latter were burned. It is said Mr. Phillips fired from his house and killed two pro-slavery men. Forty sufferers arrived here today entirely destitute. Fuller particulars to-morrow."

The same dispatch appeared in the N. Y. Tribune of Saturday, which paper of that day says of this sensational communication:

"Our correspondent at St. Louis appears to be under the impression that the Mr. Phillips, who was his brother, has been shot; the special Kansas correspondent of the Tribune, whose death had been an avowed object among the Missouri ruffians. This, however, is a mistake. Mr. Phillips recently left the Territory."

"The Tribune correspondent of the N. Y. Tribune, who was in the State, and on the day of the battle he was in this city. He is now returning, and will soon be at his post again in Kansas."

He was in this city on Friday, and came into our office, mistaking it for one of the black republican newspaper offices. He introduced himself as the Kansas correspondent of the N. Y. Tribune, and on the day of the battle he was in this city. He is now returning, and will soon be at his post again in Kansas."

wanted in vain. The other day we learned that Gov. Johnston, despairing of the fulfillment of the agreement, withdrew his own name from the ticket. Some of us, who deemed the sacrifice an outrage, proclaimed the fact by publishing his letter. We believed that the time had come when every American should know the truth.

Another Accession.—Mr. Geary, U. S. Senator from Missouri, an old line Whig, has written a long and able letter in which he abandons the Fillmore party and announces his determination to vote and aid in the election of Mr. Buchanan.

A Master-piece Out Done.—We have until lately supposed Ayer's Cherry Pectoral was the Ultima Thule in its line, and that nothing had been or would be invented which could surpass it in its fine point of medicinal efficacy. But we are confidently assured that Dr. Ayer's new Pills excel in high medical artistry even that widely celebrated embodiment of his skill. He has succeeded in making them not only pleasant to take, but powerful to cure the large class of complaints which require a purgative remedy. —Lawrence Argus, Ky.

GRAND MASS MEETING OF THE FRIENDS OF
THE UNION AND THE CONSTITUTION
AT FORT WAYNE,
On Tuesday, Oct. 9th, 1856.

J. C. BRECKINRIDGE,

GEN. CASS,
Gov. HOWEL COBB, of Georgia,
J. B. Clay, J. Van Buren,
J. D. Bright, J. Pettit, Gov. Wright,
F. J. Grund, who will speak in German and French—G. N. Fitch—A. P. Edgerton—R. Lowry—D. W. Voorhies—R. J. Ryan, the Indianapolis young Irish Orator—and other distinguished Democratic Statesmen have been invited, several of whom will positively attend.

Democrats of the surrounding Counties and Townships, meet with us on the occasion, and give counsel together. Bring your wives and daughters, your music and your warms and hickory poles! The young men and women are invited to attend on horseback, and form a GRAND CAVALCADE!
The procession will be formed at 10 o'clock. Arrangements will be made with the Railroad Company to carry visitors to the Convention for HALF FARE.

A PERFUMED BREATH.—What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath when by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers" as a dentifrice would not only render it sweet out to the teeth white as alabaster? Many persons do not know their breath is bad, and the subject is so delicate their friends will never mention it. Pour a single drop of "Balm" on your tooth brush and wash the teeth night and morning. A fifty cents
